How to read: Funding rates are periodic payments between long and short traders in perpetual futures. Positive rates mean longs pay shorts (bullish crowding — market is overleveraged long). Negative rates mean shorts pay longs (bearish pressure — market is overleveraged short). Rates above ±0.03% are considered elevated. Open Interest (OI) shows total outstanding contracts — rising OI with rising price confirms trend strength, while rising OI with falling price signals growing short pressure.
