

WEEKLY DEEP DIVE

Strategic Liquidity, Macro Themes & Crypto Rotation

Sun, Jun 28 2026

THREE THEMES OF THE WEEK

THEME 1: 🌍 EXTREME FEAR

The Fear & Greed Index sits at 18, deep in 'Extreme Fear' territory. BTC shed 7% on the week to $59,584, now 52.26% below its all-time high. Buyer conviction has effectively evaporated across the crypto market.

THEME 2: 💧 ETF HEMORRHAGE

Spot Bitcoin ETFs recorded a massive $1.78 billion net outflow this week, with IBIT alone accounting for $1.3 billion in redemptions. This marks the largest weekly outflow in recent months and confirms that institutional selling pressure is accelerating.

THEME 3: 📈 INFLATION RETURNS

US CPI reached 4.27% in May 2026, the highest reading in recent history, while core PCE stands at 3.41%, well above the Fed's 2% target. Next week's non-farm payrolls data will be a critical catalyst for repricing Fed rate-cut expectations.

DATE	TIME	EVENT	COUNTRY	PREV	CONS	ACTUAL
02 Jul Thu	8:30 AM	● Unemployment Claims	USD	215K	220K	—

Weekly Outlook & Strategy: The key risk event next week is the July 2 Non-Farm Payrolls release (consensus: 114K) alongside the unemployment rate (consensus: 4.3%). A strong print would reinforce the 'higher for longer' Fed narrative and pressure risk assets further, while a weak reading could trigger a short-term relief rally.

LIQUIDITY REGIME

US Federal Reserve Net Liquidity (3-Year Weekly)

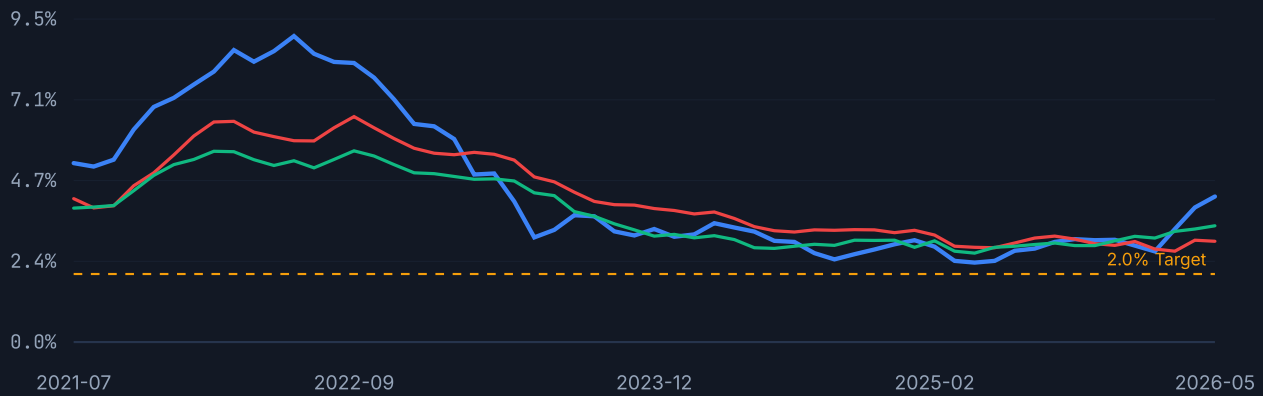

Analyst Note: The Fed balance sheet stands at $6.74T, contracting by a modest $10B on the week. While M2 money supply reached $23.05T with a monthly gain of 1.09%, Fed net liquidity at $5.81T has been trending lower in recent weeks, creating an unfavorable macro backdrop for risk assets.

MACRO SCOREBOARD

DOLLAR INDEX (DXY) 101.36 ▼ -0.07%	US 10Y YIELD 4.37% Consolidated	2S10S SPREAD 0.28% ▲ +0.28%

US Inflation Path (CPI, Core CPI, Core PCE YoY - 5-Year)

Analyst Note: US CPI at 4.27% and core PCE at 3.41% in May 2026 both remain significantly above the Fed's 2% target, with inflation re-accelerating after a brief disinflationary period. This 'higher for longer' scenario continues to suppress rate-cut expectations and weigh on risk appetite.

STABLECOIN SUPPLY & SHARE

Stablecoin Market Cap & USDT/USDC Shares (3-Year Weekly)

Analyst Note: Total stablecoin supply edged lower to $311.4B; USDT holds a 59.39% market share while USDC accounts for 23.72%. The flat-to-declining stablecoin supply signals that fresh fiat liquidity is not entering the crypto ecosystem, reinforcing the bearish demand backdrop.

Analyst Note: Spot Bitcoin ETFs recorded a combined net outflow of $1.78B for the week ending June 26, 2026, with IBIT seeing $1.3B and FBTC $314.9M in redemptions. Negative ETF flows represent institutional selling pressure; three consecutive weeks of outflows is a strong signal that large players are actively reducing exposure.

With DXY hovering at 101.36, dollar stability is providing a marginal buffer for BTC; however, gold's strong negative correlation with DXY (-0.585) positions it as a more defensive store-of-value in the current environment compared to Bitcoin.

America can't get enough of protein. The dairy industry can't keep up

Demand for whey protein is off the charts as American diet trends change and GLP-1s boom, and the dairy industry is struggling to produce enough.

AI Insight: The structural surge in protein demand driven by GLP-1 drug adoption straining the dairy industry introduces an additional upside risk to food inflation, compounding an already elevated US CPI of 4.27% and complicating the Fed's path to its 2% target.

Iraq detains politicians, officials in anti-corruption crackdown Reuters

AI Insight: Iraq's detention of politicians and officials in an anti-corruption sweep deepens regional political instability; heightened Middle Eastern geopolitical risk sustains supply-side concerns in oil markets, which could feed through to commodity prices and broader inflation.

Some renters say homeownership isn't part of their American Dream: Renting is 'really freeing for me'

Some no longer see renting as a temporary stop on the path to homeownership but rather a long-term lifestyle choice, reflecting a shift in the American Dream.

AI Insight: The growing preference among Americans for long-term renting over homeownership signals a structural demand shift in housing; while this may cap certain real estate valuations, it also points to persistent rental inflation, which remains a sticky component of core CPI.

Analyst Note: Escalating US-Iran tensions are sustaining a geopolitical risk premium in energy markets, while Iraq's anti-corruption crackdown adds to regional political uncertainty. Together, these developments compound the existing RISK_OFF environment and could further dampen global risk appetite heading into the new week.
